Subject: Re: Renn Objection

Hi Bill. Will you please accept this screenshot from my phone of my brokerage account at Interactive Brokers as evidence that I am a Renren ADS holder as I am currently at the hospital for a family health emergency?

I have continuously held these shares since prior to October 18, 2021.

Thank you for considering my request. I understand this may be less formal documentation than is typical and I apologize for any inconvenience.

Thank you,
Adam Gui

Mr. Gui:

We are in receipt of the objection to counsels' fee request that you presented to Epiq. We have not received any documentation showing your investment in Renren, and Epiq has indicated that they received no such documentation from you either. Accordingly, please provide documentation sufficient to prove that you held Renren common stock or ADSs as of the date of your objection, and that you likewise held such interests on or prior to October 18, 2021, the date on which the scheduling order was entered. If we do not receive any documentation from you by close of business on December 1st, then we will assume that you lack standing to object and we will bring your lack of standing (as evidenced by your failure to provide the requested documentation) to the Court's attention.

Regards,

Bill
